GigaMedia Adds President; Sees Games Business Pick-up in 4Q

TAIPEI, Taiwan, September 24, 2012 – GigaMedia Limited (NASDAQ: GIGM) announced today that games industry veteran Steve Tsao has joined GigaMedia as president and chief operating officer of the company's FunTown online games business.

Mr. Tsao has a proven track record in the online games business, having co-founded and grown two publicly listed game companies. Mr. Tsao co-founded United Arab Emirates-based Tahadi Games and led the company from November 2008 to December 2011 as chief executive officer. During that time, Tahadi expanded its operations to four different countries; valuation increased more than five times. Prior to that, Mr. Tsao co-founded IP E-Games in the Philippines. Under his leadership as a director and president, the company grew in four years from a start-up to a publically traded market leader in Southeast Asia. Mr. Tsao was also founder, director, and chief operating officer of IP-Ventures Group from 2004 to 2008, an investment incubator focused on technology and media companies in Southeast Asia. He holds a Master of Business Administration degree from the Franklin W. Olin Graduate School of Business at Babson College and a Bachelor of Science degree in chemical engineering from the University of New Hampshire.

"Steve is the real deal: a great strategic thinker with strong operational skills and an avid gamer/successful entrepreneur who knows how to win – all the skills, qualities and experience we need to build New FunTown," stated GigaMedia Chief Executive Officer John Stringer. "Steve is already driving change to reinvigorate and strengthen New FunTown, positioning our games business for an improved 2013."

"FunTown has great opportunities to grow and create a new business model; our MahJong is renowned in Taiwan and our ARPU from casual games is exceptional," stated FunTown President Steve Tsao. "We intend to capitalize on the value of our brand and our skill in monetizing games as we extend FunTown's platform to Web/mobile games."

"We are focused on leveraging our assets, updating our products, and increasing our efficiencies," stated FunTown President Steve Tsao. "We are also beginning to rebuild development capabilities and explore growth opportunities outside Taiwan.”

“As a result, FunTown is on track for improved top and bottom lines in the third quarter compared to the second quarter of 2012,” stated FunTown President Steve Tsao. “We are also optimistic of delivering sequential growth in the seasonally strong fourth quarter.”

GigaMedia's New Cloud Business to Launch in March 2013 — Platform Reimagines and Simplifies Business for Fast-Moving Asian SMEs

TAIPEI, Taiwan, September 20, 2012 – GigaMedia Limited (NASDAQ: GIGM) today provided more details on its new cloud computing business, GigaCloud, and announced launch is planned for March 2013.

GigaCloud provides a unique, integrated platform of critical services and tools for small-to-medium enterprises (SMEs) in Greater China enabling SMEs to increase flexibility, efficiency and competitiveness.

“Cloud technology is changing the way businesses operate,” stated GigaMedia Chief Executive Officer John Stringer. “Old hardware and telecom systems no longer support the way businesses work today; in Asia, SMEs are looking for solutions that are flexible, mobile and affordable that allow for managing business remotely using smart phones or tablets.”

“GigaCloud enables SMEs to redefine how they do business,” stated CEO John Stringer. “With GigaCloud, SMEs in Greater China can jump from using legacy phone and paper-based fax systems to full-featured, cloud-based communications that are cheaper and mobile, accessible from any location using an IP phone, PC, and Web browser or smart phone.”

Subscriptions provide customers a suite of advanced phone, fax and video security systems, eliminating the need for onsite hardware, installation, and maintenance – a solution tailor-made for SMEs in Greater China.

With GigaCloud, employees will no longer be tied to the office — increasing productivity; and SMEs can cut IT staff and IT investments — decreasing costs.

Key initial features of GigaCloud include the following:

- Easy to deploy and manage hosted VoIP communications system; no system on premises to maintain and scales as the business grows
- Location independent — one phone system for offices in multiple locations, also available to users anywhere using an IP phone, PC, and Web browser or smart phone
- One unified phone number for users for both internal and external calls preventing missed calls

- Email store and retrieve faxes from the cloud
- Video surveillance security camera with footage stored on the cloud
- Extremely low cost and high quality solutions

GigaCloud services will be available in March 2013.

Initial product launch is planned in strategic partnership with Taiwan-based Chailease Holding Co Ltd to capitalize on the firm's large SME customer base. Chailease is Taiwan's number one leasing company with approximately 42 percent market share. The firm has a wide product offering, including financial services, leasing, and installment sales and serves approximately 15,000 SMEs in Greater China.
