Viacom International Media Networks and GigaMedia
Announce New Developments Around World's First
SPONGEBOB SQUAREPANTS
Massively Multiplayer Online Game (MMOG)

Expansions Include Content, Mobile Platforms and Europe, Russia and Latin America Publishing

Singapore/Taipei/London/New York, September 21, 2011 – Viacom International Media Networks (VIMN), a division of Viacom Inc (NYSE: VIA, VIA.B), and leading Asian online games company GigaMedia Limited (NASDAQ: GIGM) today announced new developments in their multi-year partnership around the first Massively Multiplayer Online Game (MMOG) based upon Nickelodeon's global smash hit, SpongeBob SquarePants. The companies will double the amount of content in the game, develop an iOS mobile game, and expand publishing internationally.

Announced in June 2010, the SpongeBob SquarePants MMOG is the first Nickelodeon television property to be developed as an MMOG, and Viacom's first to be developed outside of the United States.

The SpongeBob SquarePants MMOG will launch first in Taiwan in 2012 followed by rollout in multiple languages for players in China, Korea, Japan, Southeast Asia and India. As part of the new developments announced today, GigaMedia will also publish the game in Europe, Russia and Latin America.

The SpongeBob SquarePants creative team at the Burbank-based Nickelodeon Animation Studios has been working closely with GigaMedia and their development partner BlueArk Entertainment to develop the online environment and SpongeBob SquarePants avatars, allowing players to create, customize and personalize their experience. The SpongeBob SquarePants MMOG will be designed to appeal to broad demographics, allowing players to play as characters including SpongeBob, Patrick, Squidward and others.

The game will use the Unity game engine from Unity Technologies. Unity is rapidly gaining recognition as an integrated development system for browser-based 3D games, and as a multiplatform tool it is also used for iPhone, Wii, PC, and Mac games.

The free-to-play model will offer an online store where users can purchase a range of bespoke items to populate and customize their experience, and will also feature a wide range of video and simple Flash®-based games allowing users of all skill-levels and ages to interact and share their SpongeBob SquarePants experiences online.

Full details of the game's content, objectives, rules, challenges, customization elements and add-on enhancements will be announced in 2012.

GigaMedia Announces Retirement of Board Member

TAIPEI, Taiwan, September 19, 2011 – GigaMedia Limited (NASDAQ: GIGM) announced today that Arthur Wang has resigned from the company's board of directors.

Mr. Wang intends to devote more time to his personal and charitable projects.

"On behalf of the whole board, I would like to thank Arthur Wang for his service to GigaMedia and for helping to facilitate the transition to new management," stated GigaMedia Chairman Michael Ding. "He guided the company through periods of great change and tremendous growth and we wish him all the best."

Mr. Wang joined GigaMedia as chief executive officer in December 2003 and retired from the company in March this year, but remained as a consultant and continued to serve on the board.

Following the change announced today, GigaMedia's board is comprised of eight members with more than a majority as independent directors.
